My broth-er and sis-ter in dis-tant lands, an o-cean be-tween us we still join hands, we He drew us from out of the world to be. "Re-deemed of all na-tions" both you and me. He's The love of the Fa-ther no bound-ry knows where hon-est hearts seek Him he gos-pel with go. Of The lan-guage you speak is to me un-known. But some-day in heav-en we'll stand at His throne. In wor-ship the Fa-ther we pray thru the Son. To- geth-er a-part we are one walk-ing be-side me as He is with you. Your Sa- vior is my Sav- ior too! He one blood He made us with one He a- toned, though strang-ers He made us His own.
